

Name of intervention:

Rainbow Ticket

Intent: For children to use when they are going through difficult times with their mental health and emotional wellbeing and need someone to talk to.

Implementation: Children may be offered a Rainbow ticket if they need extra support with their mental health and emotional wellbeing. Children are selected for this intervention through conversations had with teaching staff, the child's family and school SENCO. The child will keep their ticket in their tray or on their teacher's desk. Should they feel overwhelmed by their emotions, at any time, they can use their ticket for time out in the Rainbow Room or in Mrs Rickersey's office.

Impact: Children are able to access time out, at any time throughout the school day, without having to verbally ask for it. This impacts positively on the classroom, as there are no interruptions in learning for the other children.
